Citizens encouraged to give input on local stormwater programs

[Duluth, MN] - Citizens from the Duluth area are invited to the annual public stormwater meeting on June 28th at 6:30 pm at the MNDOT building at 1123 Mesaba Ave. Stormwater is rain water and snow melt that collects on the ground as a result of rain and snowfall. When this water flows across the surface of the land it picks up pollutants and carries them to the nearest stream, river, or lake. Representatives from the City of Duluth, City of Hermantown, MNDOT, St Louis County, and Lake Superior College will present information about their stormwater programs and will be seeking public input on opportunities to improve.

Community participation and input is crucial to make sure that we maintain the highest quality water we all enjoy in this region.
