THE WINNING BALANCE

So where do I stand? Where am I with respect to this topic? Respond to the questions below based on your behaviors.

How often do I	Rarely	Sometimes	Usually	Mostly
1. Challenge others privately when they make racially, ethnically, or sexually offensive comments?	1	2	3	4
2. Challenge others publicly when they are making fun of others because of their race, gender, ethnic background, religion, appearance, disability, or sexual orientation?	1	2	3	4
3. Think about the impact of my comments and actions before I speak?	1	2	3	4
4. Refuse to tell jokes that are derogatory to any group, culture, or sex?	1	2	3	4
5. Refrain from repeating statements or rumors that reinforce prejudice or bias?	1	2	3	4
6. Avoid generalizing the behaviors or attitudes of one individual to an entire group (e.g.: "All blacks are," "All disabled people are," "All men are,")?	1	2	3	4
7. Accept that I am a biased person and understand that there will be times when my biases will come out in my actions or words?	1	2	3	4
8. Avoid using language that reinforces negative stereotypes (e.g.: "You're acting like a pack of wild Indians," "Jew them down," "White of you," "I'll get my girl to do it")?	1	2	3	4
9. Learn about people of different races and groups (through reading, attending voluntary seminars, watching television specials, listening to speakers)?	1	2	3	4

Used with permission of Bureau of National Affairs, The Winning Balance.

Continued on next page...

THE WINNING BALANCE (CONT'D)

Hov	v often do I	Rarely	Sometimes	Usually	Mostly
10.	Get to know people of different races and groups and individuals (make the first effort to talk to them, invite them to socialize)?	1	2	3	4
11.	Support and take responsibility for helping my organization meet EEO/AA guidelines?	1	2	3	4
12.	Value people who are different from me as resources because of their unique skills, abilities, perspectives, and approaches?	1	2	3	4
13.	Work to change policies that disregard different cultural beliefs or religious holidays?	1	2	3	4
14.	Challenge the notion that individuals need to act or look a certain way to be successful or valuable to the organization?	1	2	3	4
15.	Forgive people who make biased statements about me or others and allow them to regain my trust and respect?	1	2	3	4
16.	Include and invite people different from myself into the decision-making process?	1	2	3	4
17.	Provide timely and honest feedback to others, including those different from myself, even if it feels risky?	1	2	3	4
18.	Share the formal and informal rules of my group with those different from myself?	1	2	3	4
19.	Disregard physical characteristics (disability, attractiveness, height, weight, dress, etc.) when interacting with others and making decisions about their ability?	1	2	3	4
20.	Support organizational policies regarding equal treatment by confronting people who violate those policies and reporting them if necessary?	1	2	3	4
		TOT	AL SCORE:

Used with permission of Bureau of National Affairs, The Winning Balance.

