New Business

Duluth-Superior Pride

Partner with the NQT2SLGBIA Commission to table at Duluth Superior Pride. Commissioner Hakes will email the Human Rights Commission to discuss a potential partnership. Staffing the table will be a barrier given the Commission doesn't have a budget or any swag items to distribute. The Commission would like to invite other Commissions so the NQT2SLGBIA Commission members can enjoy Duluth Superior Pride weekend. Commissioners will find out what other City Commissions will be present to host Conversion Therapy Ban materials at or another booth, such as the primary pride table. The Commission's 2022 goal is to create 1-page flyer at the pride tent table. The Commission's 2023 goal is to work to raise funds to purchase a nice table cloth, swag, and more. Commissioner Broadwell is willing to print, place in acrylic stand, and post the flyer at the Duluth Superior Pride Festival. Commissioner Driscoll will create a 1-page flyer for review at the August meeting for approval prior to the event.

Racial Bias Audit

Commissioner Broadwell provided an update on the Racial Bias Audit. The vendor selected is the CJI – Crime and Justice Institute based in Boston. Once the data is compiled, the group will be called back for next steps by Blair Powless with the intention to help guide the audit. The funding was secured by Lt. Laura Marquardt from DPD by the City and will be broken into two City budget year cycles.
